CONFERENCE

Keeping the Records of Science Accessible: Can we afford it?

4 November 2008, Budapest, Hungary

PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME

9.00 – 9.30	Registration and coffee
9.30 – 9.35	Welcome by conference host, Gábor B. Makara, President of the Hungarian Scientific Research Fund (OTKA)
9.35 – 9.40	Welcome by the conference chair, Ian Halliday, President of the European Science Foundation
9.40 – 10.00	Business models for an infrastructure for permanent access to scientific data and publications: the Alliance view, Keith Jeffery, Chair of the Alliance for Permanent Access
10.00 – 10.20	Keeping research data safe, Neil Beagrie, Charles Beagrie Limited, UK
10.20 – 10.40	Developments in the Unites States, representative from NSF (to be confirmed)
10.40 – 11.00	Coffee break
11.00 – 12.30	Parellel sessions: Looking for differences in requirements and business models: social sciences and humanities / natural sciences, facilitated by the European Science Foundation
12.30 – 13.30	Lunch

13.30 – 13.50	Perspective of the EUROHORCs-ESF-NSF working group, John Marks (to be confirmed)
13.50 – 14.10	Perspective on sustainable business models, Norbert Kroo, Scientific Council of the European Research Council
14.10 – 14.30	Perspective on sustainable business models, John Smith, Deputy Director General European University Association
14.30 – 14.50	Towards a global e-Science infrastructure: repositories are enough?, Laszlo Kovacs, Hungarian Academy of Sciences
14.50 – 15.10	Perspective on sustainable business models, Viviane Reding, EC commissioner Information Society and Media (to be confirmed)
15.10 – 15.30	Coffee break
15.30 – 16.00	Forum discussion / results parallel sessions
16.00 – 16.15	Concluding remarks by the chair